Finn Kayaks join the Fenn Series as our latest sponsor. 28/08/09

Finn Kayaks are located in Perth, Western Australia. Their philosophy is that kayaking should be accessible to everyone. "There is a wonderful, calming joy to be gained from the paddling on the water, whether it's the river or the ocean," says Alwyn Duke, owner of Finn Kayaks. "And the Finn is a versatile, easy kayak to paddle, giving even beginners immediate success." Finn Kayaks specialize in plastic boats and kayaks suitable for all standards.

Alwyn has a personal policy of continual improvement that he applies to his boats. If there is a better grade of plastic or a better way of doing it he will. He admits the favorite part of his business is designing and making the prototype for each craft, then paddling and testing it to the point of satisfaction, when the mould is then made. There are 16 moulds for the range of Finn kayaks, which start at around $490 (retail) for a very stable craft that is safe for children right up to $1200 for a kayak designed to go very fast and therefore ideal for competition such as the Avon Descent, Alwyn, a veteran of 16 Avon Descents himself.

Finn Kayaks have donated two boats and a number of paddles which will be given as lucky door prizes for competitors who compete throughout the series. Its great having Finn Kayaks involved in the series as many of the competitors also do adventure racing and have competed in the Avon Descent themselves so the chance of a new boat for next years race is fantastic.
